A DAY IN THE LIFE OF A BARNARD STUDENT

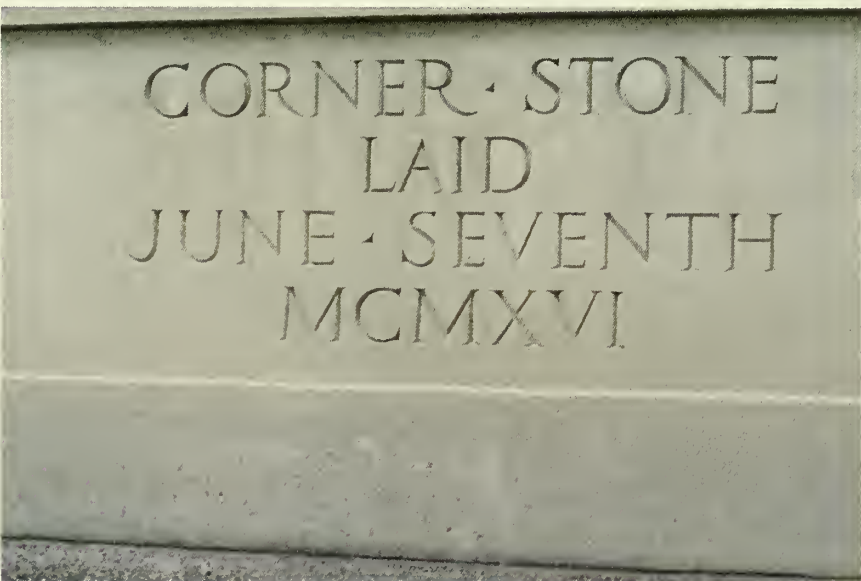

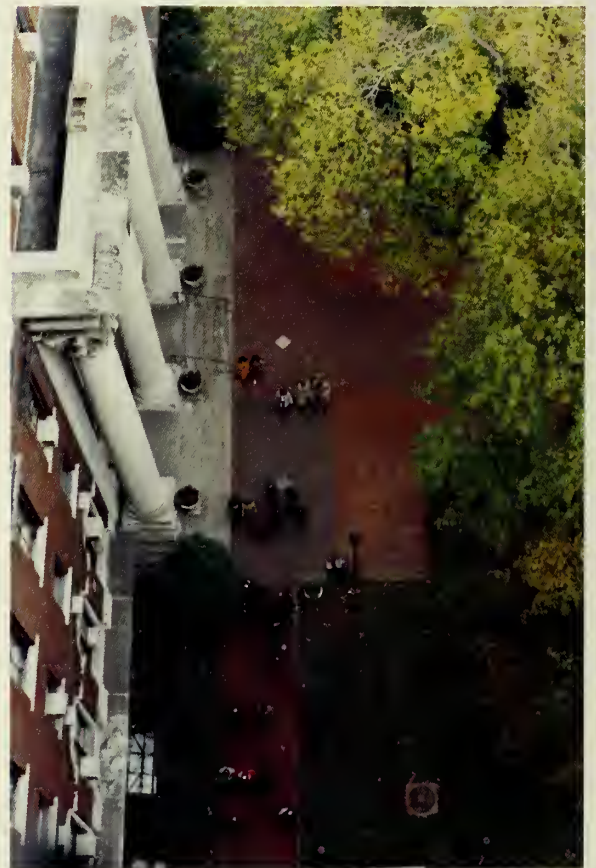

- 8:00am Wake up to cement mixers drag racing down Claremont.
- 8:30am Dragged out of bed into shower by "friend" who convinced you to take a 9am class.
- 9:15am Jog to class with friend, cramming ARA muffin down throat, arguing over who got less sleep last night and why.
Run up eight flights of stairs in Altschul because someone is stuck in the elevator.
- 10:25am Awakened by friend because MicroAstroZoologicalOrganomics class is over.
Walk back down the stairs because same person is still stuck in the elevator.
Stop in McIntosh for weekly mail check.
Dump various colored fliers on ground — movie nights, lectures, forums, dinners, parties, meetings — tear open overdue Visa bill.
- 10:35am Do shots of coffee and head to a professor's office hours.
- 12:43pm Lunch at McIntosh with a friend whom you have planned for three weeks to meet for these twenty minutes.
- 1:00pm Random committee meeting.
- 2:00pm Waste rest of the day doing who-knows-what.
- 6:00pm Return to room. "You have no new messages." Loser.
- 6:30pm Dinner at John Jay.
Same garbage, different side of the street.
- 7:30pm Head over to the reserve room.
Walk around and talk to people you haven't seen since the last time you came.
- 10:00pm Take off for Augie's — the professor never tests you on the reserve reading anyway.
- 12:15pm Return home. "Your mailbox is full. Please delete..." Shut up.
Call back mom. Complain you are working too hard and the food is lousy.
- 1:00am Visit friend with VCR and watch Bill and Ted's Excellent Adventure.
- 3:00am Make plans with a friend to go to the gym at 9am — a date you will both break at 8:55.
Settle down after unwinding from the tense day to study.
- 3:01am Open book.
- 3:02am Fall asleep.

Over the past few years, both Barnard and Morningside Heights have undergone changes in a concerted effort to enhance and beautify the neighborhood. But did you ever stop and wonder —

What ever happened to...

- *the truck?
- *the Lucerne housing option?
- *Rickies?
- *the back (Claremont) entrance to Hewitt?
- *the Arthur Ross (a.k.a. Reid) Courtyard?
- *good housing for everyone after the erection of Centennial Hall?
- *the West End?
- *BHR?
- *Chock Full 'O Nuts?
- *that Kodak store?
- *Furnald Grocery?
- *Steve's Ice Cream?
- *Logos?
- *Yum Yum?
- *Lucy's Surfateria?
- *B&B Market?
- *CENTREX?

AND THE BUSH WAS NOT CONSUMED

New York!

New York City! It's like no other metropolis in the world while it's abounding opportunities make it a combination of all cities. This happening, challenging and diverse city is an educational extension of Barnard. Everything from the Chinese take-out place down the block to the architectural landmarks make the city an experience in and of itself. Four years could only give a student but a taste of what New York holds in store. Whether you crave a post-Cubist-Psychadelic art exhibit or a sumo wrestling match, whether you have Saturday night dance fever or the urge to sit in a small smokey cafe, whether you want to shop on Fifth Ave. or lounge in the park – New York is ready if you are.

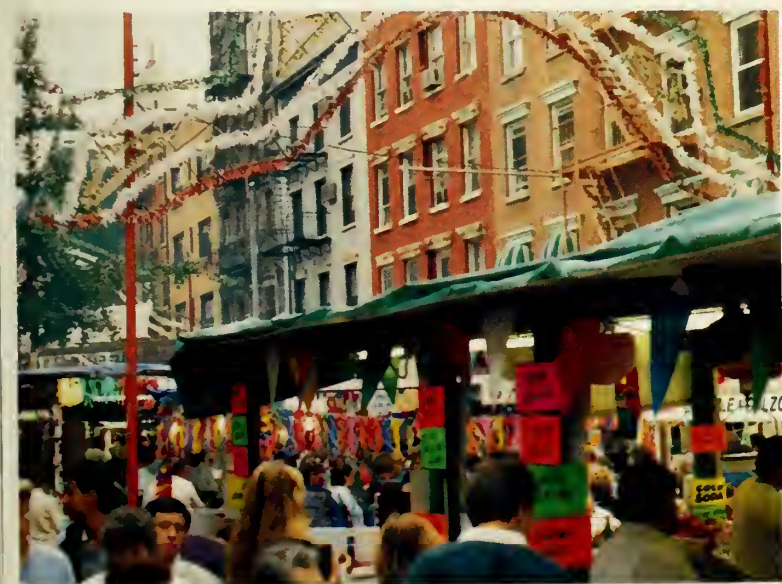

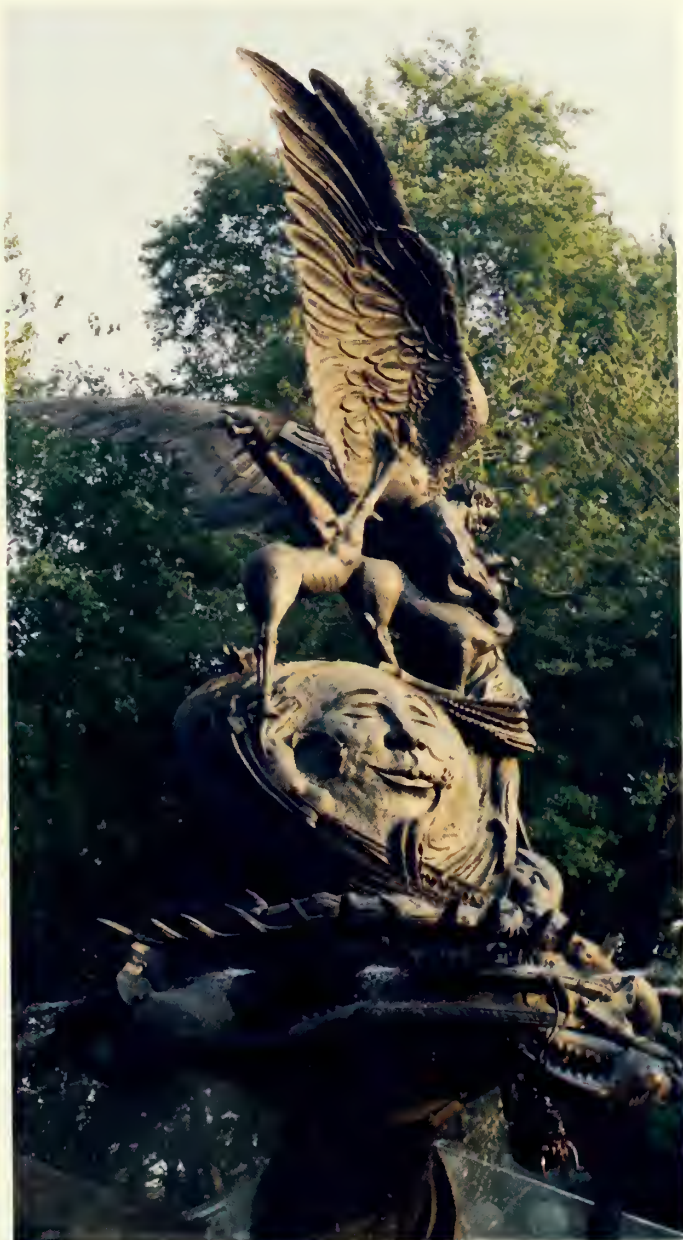

GREAT QUOTES FROM BARNARD LITERATURE

1. Barnard is a selective liberal arts college for women, affiliated with Columbia University and integrally related to New York City.
2. You must show 6 forms of CUID upon entering the building.
3. Any program over 18 points will be billed for an average of $448 per point above the already exorbitant $20,00 cover charge.
4. Registration...BLOCKED.
Library fee of $.31 overdue.
5. The Bursar is located in the Jean Palmer Room in Upper Level McIntosh. Please stand on the ridiculously long line there and don't clog up our office in the basement of Milbank.
6. The Pass/D/Fail deadline has been moved up to yesterday.
7. Hello. This is the PhoneMail system. The party you have called at extension 44444 (pause) is not available. You may leave a message after the beep or transfer out of PhoneMail.
8. Welcome to the exciting world of Barnard Dining Services.
9. This extension is not accepting messages because the mailbox is full.
10. All students should check their mailbox regularly for further information.

WORDS OF WELCOME

To the Members of the Class of 1990:

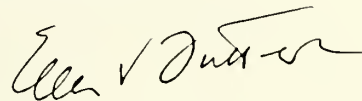

As you graduate in the first year of your second century, you go from a college that has never been insulated from reality to a world that has never had more serious problems -- a world that needs your informed vision, your talents and your energy.

In your years here, the College has changed as we have added new dimensions to the curriculum, embraced our multiculturalism, become truly residential, and celebrated our Centennial. And in your years here you have formed new friendships and have grown in understanding, skill, and self-knowledge. What you have gained, matched with your spirit and your commitment, will take you wherever you want to go.

As you take your next steps into the future, you have our confidence and our affection. However far you go, we hope that you will continue to feel and be part of the College. We wish every one of you the very best of luck and much happiness personally and professionally.

With warmest wishes,

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "Ellen V. Futter", with a stylized flourish at the end.

Ellen V. Futter
President, Barnard College

Dear Class of 1990,

On your first day here I proclaimed:

1990 -- what a class:
The best one yet, we all agree.
Just one fault it has, alas:
"90" has no rhymes, you see.

So would you mind a nom de plume?
May I call you "80 - 10"?
No other class will, I presume
Be known by such a "name of pen."

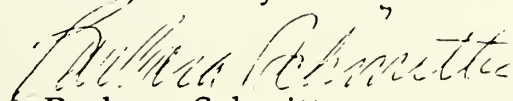

It's just the thing -- for 10, we know
Denotes a high, a perfect score,
Top of the line, the best of show,
A group that's quite superior.

And that describes you, 80 - 10:
First of our second centur-ee.
We'll proudly say we knew you when
You hadn't earned your first degree!

Little did I realize on that August 27th how very special you would prove to be, made even stronger by a great group of transfers -- a legend already!

You have made a difference here, and you are leaving a legacy of caring and achieving. Come back often to see what's doing and to help us do it.

Affectionately,

BARNARD COLLEGE: A FOUR YEAR REVIEW

First-Year

We entered Barnard wondering if we'd get along with our roommates and whether we'd ever be able to navigate our way around the school and New York City. Soon we advance to finding out way through the Barnard tunnels. We endured our first PE sing-up lines; we deciphered cryptic acronyms such as "BHR," "FBH," "QR" and "UFM"; we ate in the pre-renovated TJ McDermott-sponsored Hewitt Dining Halls (the more adventurous ones made the social pilgrimage to John Jay). The Mets won the Series and Broadway became a seas of screaming students. 13 points was an excessive work-load; 10-page papers were unheard of. By second semester, we were experienced 4am-Tom's-goers, frat party attenders and College Reserve Room socializers

Sophomore Year

Mature and sophisticated, we returned to Barnard. Construction of the new dorm was in full swing (those lucky students whose rooms faced the work were privileged to see the workers' faces peering into their windows at random hours of the day). Most of us had singles for the first time. We mastered the art of registration; differentiated between the various libraries and auditoriums named Lehman/Altschul/Wollman; stopped signing up for unnecessary Friday classes. Declaring a major became a reality and some of us realized it was time to get down to some serious studying. We bid farewell to Steve's Ice Cream and welcomed Grandma's to the neighborhood.

Junior Year

Some women went abroad; others were introduced to Centennial Hall. Some of us moved across the street. We voted in our first presidential election, participated in gender-neutral language debates and reached the "big 21." Classwork became significant and burdensome; GRE, MCAT, LSAT and GMAT entered our vocabularies. ROLM entered the scene and CENTREX faded. The Columbia Lions roared to victory. We picked into the Tower, Furnal, John Jay and huge singles in the 600s for our final year.

Senior Year

Oh, to only take 13 credits again. Senior Thesis From Hell and grad school applications — the bane of our existence. The Job Search and networking (your mother/father works for which firm?) PhD in RolmPhone operation. We moved into and set up camp in the library. Gentrification overtook the neighborhood — no store awning resembled its appearance 4 years ago. We were veterans; some became jaded while others made a last-ditch effort to participate in campus activities and to invest in College clothing. We rejoiced and panicked at the prospect of graduation, some wishing they could start again, others counting the minutes 'til May.

RESIDENTIAL LIFE THROUGH THE AGES: REFLECTIONS OF A SENIOR

special to Mortarboard

"Can I see some ID PLEEEEEEASE?! Where do you think you are going?"

How many times have you heard this familiar cry? Most students begin to hear it in their sleep by mid-junior year.

The Class of '90 has, somehow, survived the Housing Battleground at Barnard. Not only have we lived to tell about it, but some of us (some is the operative word) actually call it home.

This year's graduates have witnessed some pretty drastic changes on this campus. Ask a first-year student if they know what the Lucerne is, s/he will probably reply, "Oh yeah, it's that cool-dude-trendy-hip French restaurant on East 60th." And what does BHR mean to them? Or Johnson? Or the sound of jackhammers at 6am? Or walking down the hall in a towel only to be greeted by a large construction worker?

Ahhh, those obscure numbers — 600, 616, 620, 49 C and 110th — we've come to know so well. And now, we finally have those formerly unattainable senior rooms. Centennial Tower, rising high above the streets of Morningside Heights, is probably one of the most desirable pieces of real estate on the West Side. When else will we be able to live with view of the full city from our windows? Or for those lucky seniors across the street, what can be better than the new, wall-to-wall carpeting in John Jay?

We remember fondly the nights spent munching toasted bagels and sipping hot coffee in the BHR Country Corner, complete with checkers and Nerf™ basketball. We remember Centrex with reverence and love. We remember having two electrical outlets for 17 appliances (and the 3 hours it took to wire the room with extension cords and adapters). We remember our RA's, the hellish housing lottery, the daily fire drills during dorm construction and the coed bathrooms. We remember living in on our own in New York City for the first time — and how much we've changed in these quick four years.

In five years we'll be back in these dorms for our reunion; hopefully they'll still be standing.

RESIDENTIAL LIFE AND COMMUTERS

SCAFFOLDING WATCH

(clicking noise in background, please)

Welcome to another edition of Morningside Heights Scaffolding (MHS) watch. As a result of local budget cuts and a general lack of funds in New York, only one set of scaffolding has been allotted to the Columbia University area. Over the past few years, we have been diligently following the journeys and adventures of this brave scaffolding. Now, for the first time in recent history, we bring you the 1986-1990 review of...

Broadway Scaffolding:

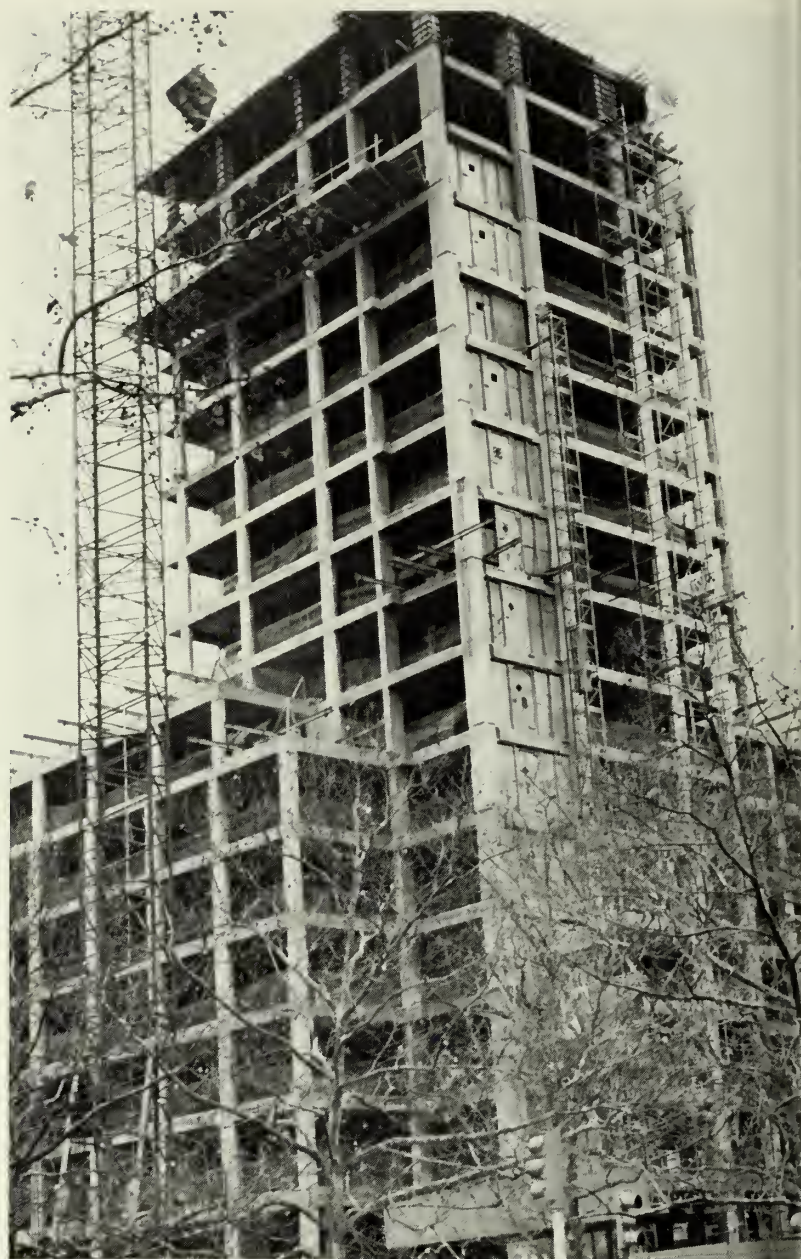

Which was your favorite location?

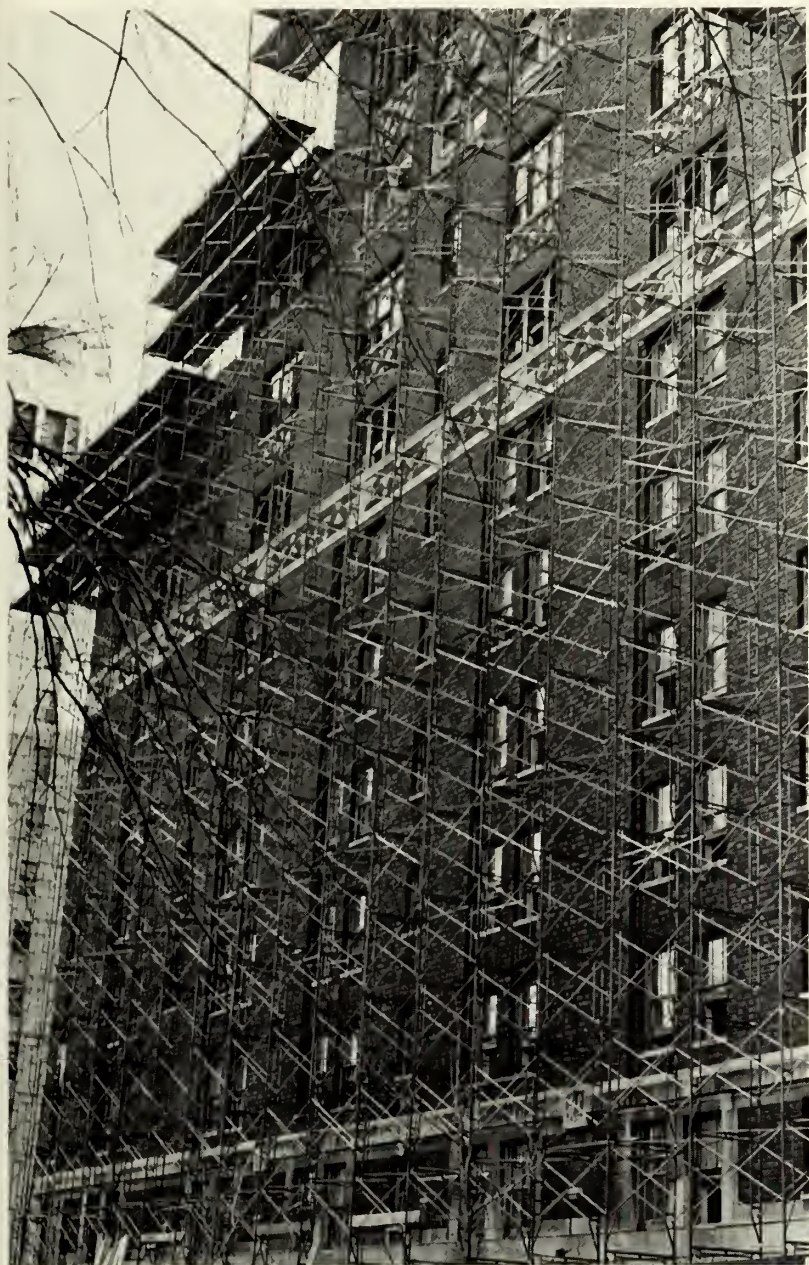

Outside Hewitt Hall? Or maybe by Chock Full O' Nuts neatly tacked onto the 600's. Perhaps by the 114th Street church. Although Papyrus was a rivaling location. I always enjoyed viewing the monument by Tamarind Seed. A local favorite site was reported to be by Manhattan Sports. Students raved about the designs near East Campus, Schapiro, and Centennial. How about that move to St. Paul's Chapel? There is talk of erecting the set in McIntosh to complement the neon.

Although the MHS seems to be temporarily gone from our lives, traveling students report seeing the set in several European cities including Rome, Florence, Paris, Budapest and London. No sightings have been reported in Asia.

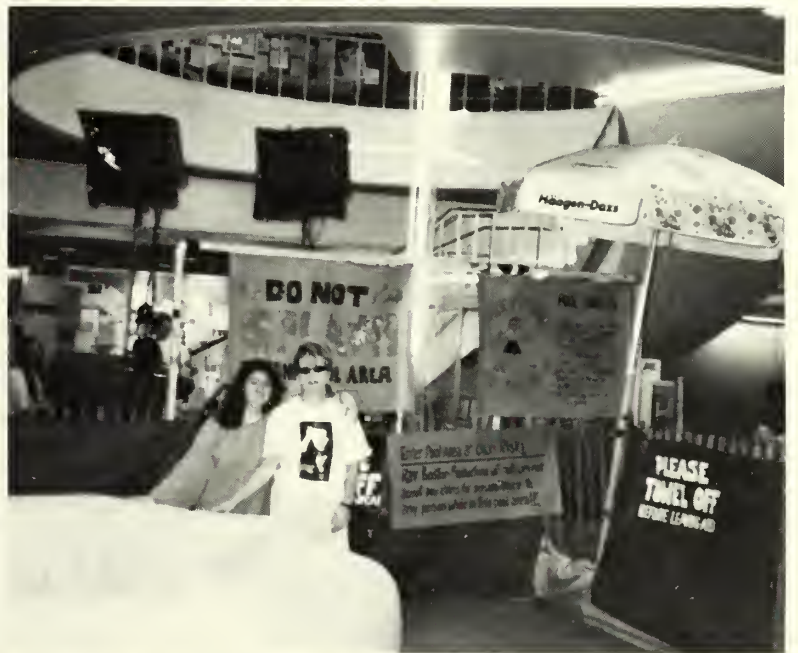

Will the MHS return or was it just an ephemeral fad to be recorded in the annals of history? Only time will tell.

This has been the Mortarboard Scaffolding Watch (more clicking noises, please). Thank you for joining us.

BC '90: Barnard is a small liberal arts college for women...

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

President: Leora Joseph

Vice President for Student Government: Lisa Rotmil

Vice President for Student Activities: Jennifer Cowan

Treasurer: Shannon Lafferty

Officer of the Board: Janet Alperstein

The Barnard Student Government Association (SGA) forms the main link between the college administration and the students. SGA is the umbrella organization that oversees all student activities and funds nearly 100 clubs in conjunction with Columbia College. Rep Council, the student government's legislative body, deals with campus issues and provides a forum for students voices. SGA sponsors two annual major campus-wide activities — Winterfest, a celebration of women in the arts featuring panels, speakers and social events, and Springfest, a celebration of spring.

REP COUNCIL

Rep Council is the legislative body of the Student Government Association (SGA) and a forum for the discussion of campus issues. Its 18 voting members, elected annually by the student body, have the power to approve the SGA budget and pass resolutions. The Council, chaired by the Vice President for Student Government who votes only in the case of a tie, comprises: the SGA President, Vice President for Student Activities, Treasurer and Officer of the Board; the Student Services Liaison, who represents all the tripartite committees; the CC, SEAS & GS Liaisons; 4 class presidents; 3 Representatives-at-Large; 2 student representatives to the Board of Trustees; and one senator (no partridge in a pear tree). Rep Council meets bi-weekly at which time each member is required to report on her/his activities and may raise issues for discussion.

Members: Lisa Rotmil, SGA Vice President for Student Government, Council Chair
Leora Joseph, SGA President
Jennifer Cowan, SGA Vice President for Student Activities
Shannon Lafferty, SGA Treasurer
Janet Alperstein, SGA Officer of the Board
Robbi Waldman, Board of Trustees Representative
Liz Davis, Board of Trustees Representative
Julie Werner, Senator
Sara Bucholtz, Student Services Representative
Lisa Gersten, Representative-at-Large
Diana Miller, Representative-at-Large
Julie Owen, Representative-at-Large
Leah Leeder, Columbia College Liaison
Sylvia Polk, SEAS Liaison
Laurie Maroun, President Class of 1990
Susan Oh, President Class of 1991
Leigh Fairchild, President Class of 1992
Deborah Geller, President Class of 1993

ACCION BORICUA

President: JJ Hernandez

Barnard Co-Chair: Edminia Taveras

Columbia Co-Chair: Sophia Quintaro

UMB Representative: Eddie Rodriguez

Finance Officer: Maria Rosado

Communications Chair: Thomas Rivera

Recruitment Chair: Jasmine Esprua

Alumni Chair: Peter Torres

Treasurer: Maria Resado

Accion Boricua promotes unity and cultural awareness among the Puerto Rican students and the Barnard/Columbia community. Puerto Rican Awareness Week, held in April, featuring lectures on Puerto Rican issues, bands and dinners, was one of the group's biggest event of the year. Other events include a panel on Puerto Rican migration to New York, a cultural show and dinner, a salsa band on the Low steps. In addition, Accion Boricua co-sponsored the annual United We Party multicultural event and participated in Latino Awareness week.

ALIANZA LATINOAMERICANA

Chair: Lilliam Alfaro
Columbia Co-chair: Teri Rice
Barnard Co-chair: Rosemary Santiago
Recruitment Chair: Nancy Lopez
Taskforce Chair: Pete Torres
Communications Chair: Zorayda Lopez
Cultural Chair: Dara Goldman
UMB Rep: Laura Gonzalez
Treasurer: Laura Quintano
Secretary: Eva Landeo

Alianza Latino Americana is a support group and social network for Latinos on campus and non-Latinos interested in Latino affairs. The group deals with social, cultural and political Latino issues through forums, lectures and social events. The fall semester highlight was Latino Heritage Week, a five day celebration and exploration of Latino culture and history. Other events include study breaks and movies.

AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL

Co-Coordinator: Ashish Jha & Peter Neisuler
Guest Speaker Coordinator: Sharon Flanagan
Legislative Issues Coordinator: Elisa Tamarkin
Urgent Action Coordinator: Max Marcu
Publicity Coordinator: Susan Leff
Treasurer: Marko Ahtisaari

Amnesty International functions both as part of the international circuit of the Amnesty organization and as a campus-centered group at Barnard and Columbia working towards freeing political prisoners through "embarassing the governments." The group brings guest speakers to campus such as Chan Tong, a Chinese student leader who participated in Tiannamen Square incidents last June, and sponsors letter write-a-thons. Amnesty's major event was International Human Rights Day celebrating the forty-first anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Human Rights.

BACCHANTAE

Musical Director: Susan Lee

Business Manager: Dawn Polizzotti

The Barnard Bacchantae, Barnard's nine-member a cappella singing group, performs both on campus and at other universities. Bacchantae's biggest events are the Fall Jamoboree (featured in the autumn) and the Bacchanalia featured in the spring semester; groups from other schools are invited to join the Bacchantae in these musical extravaganza. Other major performances include Folkfest (in Furnald Lobby), Columbiafest, Springfest and FBH Cafe.

BARNARD BULLETIN

Editor-in-Chief: Antigone Stoken

News Editor: Jessica Malberg

Associate News Editor: Sara B. Ivry

Point-of-View Editor: Amanda Brooks

Women's Issues Editor: Cara Lesser

Arts Editor: Tamara Cohen

Photography Editor: Michelle Widlitz and Kate Zimmerman

Office Manager: Pam Golbin

The Barnard Bulletin is Barnard's weekly newsmagazine. Its 30-member staff covers Barnard campus life as a woman's college featuring sections on campus news, commentary, arts, women's issues, a weekly cover story and listing of campus events.

BARNARD CLAY STUDIO

Instructor: Jane Schachat

The Barnard Clay Studio offers clay working classes for both beginner and more advanced students. The weekly classes include instruction on clay-building, use of the potter's wheel and kiln firing. Jane Schachat, the class instructor, is a Barnard alumna.

BARNARD AND COLUMBIA STUDENTS FOR CHOICE

Steering Committee Members:

Amy Denger
Valerie Green
Eva Landaao
Jennifer McQuade
Rebecca Michaels
Lisa Nahmanson
Gavin Sullivan

The Barnard and Columbia Students for Choice (BCSC), founded in January 1989, is committed to educating the Barnard and Columbia community on issues of reproductive freedom, and supports the right to safe, legal and affordable birth control, health care and abortions. The organization also supports the freedom to determine one's own sexuality, the right of gays and lesbians to raise children and an end to violence against women. BCSC holds reproductive rights forums, letter writing parties and documentary film presentations in addition to mobilizing students for pro-choice rallies.

BLUE KEY SOCIETY

President: Jennifer Novick

Vice President: Cindy Yoon

Secretary: Tina Whelton

Treasurer: Sandra Lee

Overnight Coordinator: Lara Bieler

Tour Coordinator: Marna Berkman

The Blue Key Society is a service club that actively involves college students in recruiting prospective students. The fifty or so club members lead tours for prospective students, alumnae representatives, guidance counsellors and other campus visitors. In addition, the club hosts prospective student overnights and provides programming for and assists in Open Houses.

CHINESE STUDENTS CLUB

President: Jane Chew

Vice President (BC): Janie Hwang

Vice President (CC & SEAS): Chun Li

Treasurer: Maria Ho

Secretary: Sophia Chen

The Chinese Students Club (CSC) fosters friendship among Chinese students at Barnard and Columbia and serves the interests of the Chinese community in New York. This year's event included a tour of Chinatown, visit to a Chinese art gallery and dinner; the traditional celebrations of Moonfest and the Chinese New Year; a trip to a Chinese opera; and cultural awareness workshops. CSC also co-sponsors events with the Asian Students Union and Club Zamana.

DAAWN

Dialogue About Asian Women's News (DAAWN), the official magazine of the Asian Women's Coalition (AWC), provides a public forum for Asian women on campus to raise social and political issues and share Asian literature and culture. AWC began in 1986 as a support group for Asian women on the Barnard/Columbia campus. It was important to the group that they develop a unified voice on the issues they faced, despite specific Asian cultural differences. However, they now emerge with individual voices full of contradiction with the hope of promoting campus-wide understanding of Asian women's issues.

Publicity Coordinator: Tate Steinhacker
Resource Coordinator: Laurie Behrman
Activism and Awareness Coordinator: Cindy Gerstner
Treasurer: Geraldine Row

The Earth Coalition promotes environmental awareness on campus, an especially important task in the urban university environment. Its 50 members organize various projects including a comprehensive recycling program for newspapers and cans; a community garden in Morningside Park where they garden with children and members of the local community; outings both in and out of the city; camping trips; herbal dinners; and forums and speakers concerning environmental issues. The coalition maintains an environmental issues file with resource materials. Earth Day, a celebration of the earth annually held in the early spring on the Low Library steps, is the group's major event, and features bands, environmentalist speakers, food and tie-dying.

ECONOMICS SOCIETY

President: Diane Fink

Vice President: Gayle Sered

Treasurer: Sharon Koplon

Secretary: Robyn Schreiber

Comprising mostly economics majors and prospective majors, the Economics Society works to make the economics department stronger and enhance its academic program. The society holds career panels, debates, "brown-bag lunches" with professors and lectures with distinguished people in the economics field.

EQUESTRIAN TEAM

President: Amian Frost

Captains: Brooke Bridge & Jennifer Warner

Treasurer: Hillary Baumann

Secretary: Rgan Good

Coach: Marco Jafet

The Barnard/Columbia Equestrian Team is a new Barnard-based sports club aiming for varsity team status. Twenty-one Barnard and Columbia women with diverse riding experience train at Overpack Riding Center to compete within the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association. In addition, non-competitive "joy riding" in Central Park is occasionally arranged.

GREEK-AMERICAN ORGANIZATION

President: Athena Kaporis

Vice President: Achilleas Dorotheou

Treasurer: Cleopatra Pappas

Secretary: Pandora Georgopolous

The Greek-American Organization, serving to enhance awareness of Greek culture among its members and the university community, sponsors activities for solely educational, social and cultural ends. This year was highlighted by a semi-formal dance with the atmospheric touches of Greek music and food; participation in the Greek Independence Day Parade; and Amsterdam Cafe Night featuring Greek food.

PARLIAMENTARY DEBATE

President: Andrew Cohen

Barnard Liaison: Day Levine

Treasurer: Lee Seldshon

Special Events Coordinator: Jeannette Tyerman

Tournament Coordinator: Matthew Segal

Publicity Coordinator: Jeremy Buchman

Parliamentary Debate sends teams from Columbia University to other schools for debate tournaments. This year, the team debated in tournaments held at the other Ivy League schools and at New York University, Fordham and Vassar; the debate at CU was on November 10 and 11. In the tournament, each of the 15 - 20 participating schools breaks its delegation into two-person teams. The debate consists of 5 rounds, semi-finals and finals. In addition to the local matches, CU sends one team to the nationals and two teams to the world tournament. The debating team sponsors events on campus such as the "debate in jello" and the "debate in dogfood."

PIZMON

Co-Chairs: Alyssa Cohen & Tracie Beberman

Co-Musical Directors: Brian Gelfand & Robert Scheinberg

Pizmon, a Jewish outreach group performing both on and off-campus, features Jewish music in English, Hebrew and Yiddish. Its 35 members sing accompanied by guitars in nursing homes, children's centers and old age homes. On campus, this year, the group performed at the Open House Beit Cafes (Coffeehouses), the Jewish Theological Seminary, and other campus events.

POSTCRYPT ARTS UNDERGROUND

Director: Christine C. Palmieri
Programming Coordinator: Karen Hirsch
Development Coordinator: Linor Junowicz
Recruitment Coordinator: Jennifer Laden
Treasurer: Sitara Kommareddi
Maintenance Coordinator: Karen Susnitsky
Senior Advisor: Jennifer Edgert
Editor, Postcrypt Post: John Tullai
Auction Coordinator: Roberta Waterstone
Receptions Coordinator: Shobha Varughese
Postcrypt Coffeehouse Manager: Beverly Greenfield
Coffeehouse Assistant Managers: Dan Binderman, Scott Feldman, Dave Kalb

Postcrypt Arts Underground prides itself on being the first student arts center in the history of Columbia University. Located in St. Paul's Chapel, the arts center features many programs and opportunities for artists of all kinds.

Located in the chapel's crypt, the Postcrypt Coffeehouse, founded in 1964, is still going strong. Featuring both amateur and professional talent, the crypt comes to life every Friday and Saturday night with performances ranging from blues to folk, from poetry to comedy.

In 1988 undergraduate student Debra Laefer raised $6000 to build the Postcrypt Art Gallery; the building was physically done by students with the help of graduate architecture student David Hanawlat. The gallery features seven openings each year.

In addition to being a full-time art gallery exhibiting original works by Columbia University affiliates, the gallery features several monthly programs: Arttalk, where the artists discuss personal motivation and technique; Writer's Rap, an informal support group for writers; Pamjam, an open jam sessions for musicians to play and exchange musical ideas.

Postcrypt maintains an Arts Information Center which, located in the chapel's lounge, has postings for bands, theatre groups and other arts events. In addition, the center publishes Postcrypt Post, a campus-wide monthly newsletter to publicize the chapel's events.

Footnote: A Harvard undergraduate, who saw the Postcrypt Art Gallery, established a similar gallery at Harvard chapel

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

President: Marcy Nislow

Vice Presidents: Caren Baruch & Amy Lazar

Coordinators: too numerous to list all of them (sorry)

The Psychology Club comprises predominantly psychology majors and prospective majors. The club sponsors Graduate School Information Nights, inviting representatives from Graduate Psychology Programs to speak about their various available programs; and Career Panel discussions where professionals from different areas in the psychology field discuss their careers and suggest ways of pursuing a career in psychology. This year the club featured a series of psychology films throughout the year; hosted a psych major cocktail party with alumnae; and renewed the publication of the Undergraduate Psychology Journal.

SKIP-STOP EXPRESS

President: Song Won Chon

Vice President: Micheliene Dugue

Assistant Vice President: Charlotte Stevenson

Treasurer: Elinor Reinhardt

Skip-Stop Express is a new club formed during the 1989-90 academic year catering to the special needs of commuter students. The club gives students residing off-campus an opportunity to get to know one another and a chance to get more involved in college activities. The club held a variety of events including breakfasts, movies, a bake sale, tea-times, brunches and off-campus excursions to plays.

Publicity Coordinator: Isiris Asaacs
Co-Social Chairs: Niko Lewis & Joan Distant

The Barnard Organization of Black Women (BOBW) is a support group and social network for black women on campus. The club sponsors lectures, 'nights on the town,' special events for black history month, study breaks and more. One of the year's highlights was its annual Celebration, celebrating black womanhood, with a variety of events and programs.

CHARLES DREW PRE-MEDICAL SOCIETY

President: Claudia Melendez
Vice President: Sandra Wellington
Treasurer: Anna Edouard
Corresponding Secretary: Chia-Ling Tung
Recording Secretary: Chun Lam

The Charles Drew Pre-Medical Society was founded 15 years ago out of a deep concern about the deficiency of minority representation in the medical profession and allied health fields. The ultimate goal of the society is to assist students who are interested in the medical and allied health fields with a special emphasis on students of color. This goal is accomplished in many ways: by encouraging qualified students of color to consider the fields of medicine and health; by providing it members with tutorial assistance; by bringing medical students, residents, physicians and recruiters to provide information and guidance. Charles Drew also accomplishes its goal through a series of programs designed to provide information and promote comradery.

DARE

President: Meghan McDermott
Executive Committee: Andrea Redian
Alex Varlay
Anna Muoio

In Defense of Animal Rights Education (DARE) is a new student organization dedicated to promoting campus awareness on issues of animal rights. In addition to efforts to obtain alternatives to animal dissection for undergraduate biology students, DARE sponsors films and discussions, and attends marches.

ENCUENTROS

Encuentros is a new journal that features essays, poetry, photography and art with a focus on Latinos, Spain and Latin America in both Spanish and English.

GOSPEL CHOIR

President: Gloria Gadsden
Vice President: Robert Johnson
Treasurer: Sherley Joseph
Secretary: Kellie Newman
Directress: Wanda Holland
Directress: Traci Turner

The Gospel Choir is composed of 68 Barnard, Engineering and Columbia College students, as well as other interested individuals. We gather to sing and praise the Lord. We are not here to exercise personal gripes but to unite this diverse campus. We hope to succeed by singing at on and off-campus events and at our own concerts. Interested people do not need prior experience to join.

HEOP CLUB

President: Maria Rosado

The HEOP Club serves to foster unity among students of the Higher Educational Opportunity Program (HEOP). Through cultural, academic and social activities, the club seeks to foster a greater sense of awareness and understanding of the diverse ethnic groups in our community. HEOP sponsors poetry readings, parties, discussion panels and study breaks throughout the year.

KOREAN STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

President: Sang Kim
Treasurer: Edward Paik

The Korean Students Association promotes a better understanding of Korean culture by raising social, cultural and political issues relevant to Korea and the Barnard/Columbia community. The club kicked off the year at Welcomefest with folk dancing entertainment and Asian films, sponsored in conjunction with the Asian Students Union and the Chinese Students Club. One of the year's feature events was Korean Culture Night with Korean performers and an authentic catered meal. The club also played volleyball and held a mini-olympics.

NIGHTLINE

Nightline is a confidential peer crisis counselling hotline open nightly from 10pm-3am. The hotline does not replace professional help, but seeks to provide a non-judgmental peer support system by listening to and discussing problems with students, and if necessary, giving students referrals for professional help. The students who sit by the phones undergo a semester-long training program to equip them to deal with a wide range of problems including sexuality, rape, suicide and other personal problems. Peer counsellors are asked not to reveal their identity.

SOUNDS OF CHINA

President: Cheng-Hsien Yang
Vice President: Grace Yu
Radio Programming Production: Jennifer Chou
Engineering Director: Dennis Cheung
Public Relations: Winfield Eng
Activities Coordinator: Meng Lin
Treasurer: James Show
Secretary: Jennifer Leu

Sounds of China produces a weekly Chinese radio program on WKCR. The program features the various styles of Chinese music — classical, contemporary, pop — from the club's collection of over 2000 records; and interviews with professors, famous singers from Taiwan and Hong Kong and music composers on the air. In addition, the group co-sponsors cultural events on campus with the Chinese Students at Columbia such as Moonfest and Welcomefest. Sounds of China's main annual event is its Dumpling Dinner.

CLASS OF 1990

President: Laurie Maroun

Vice President: Vicki Curry

Secretary: Liz Schack

Treasurer: Eliana Dologoff

The senior class officers kicked off their class' senior year with Senior Reorientation, saying "It's not just senior week, it's senior year." The four-day bonanza featured picnics, parties and general merry-making for senior class members. The officers planned other events throughout the year including a pre-DDC Run tye-die party, community service projects, a bus and breakfast to the Columbia vs. Princeton game and other fun-filled events.

CLASS OF 1991

President: Susan Oh
Vice President: Danielle Remis
Secretary: Roya Moadel
Treasurer: Christina Geigel

The junior class planned many exciting events during the 1989-90 year, including a talent show / lip synch contest, a junior class dinner, movies and numerous study breaks.

CLASS OF 1992

President: Leigh Fairchild
Vice President: Day Levine
Treasurer: Robyn Bass
Secretary: Tamara Kanfer

The sophomore class officers strive to organize events that will raise spirit and promote unity within the sophomore class as well as within the community at large. Events sponsored and co-sponsored by the class of 1992 include: a sophomore barbecue, a sophomore semi-formal, Internationalfest and movie nights. In addition, the class of 1992 organized academically-oriented events to provide sophomores with information regarding study abroad, internships and majors.

CLASS OF 1993

President: Deborah Geller
Vice President: Heather Moskowitz
Secretary: Veena Rayo
Treasurer: Rosalie Yee

The first-year class planned activities throughout the year that helped integrate the class into life at Barnard. The year highlighted a first-year brunch; a midnite madness scavenger hunt; a December holiday dance; a first-year musical show and talent night; a first-year fling co-sponsored with Columbia College and Engineering featuring a formal dance; community impact programming to help the homeless.

ATHLETICS

WOMEN'S VARSITY ARCHERY

The tradition of the cave men and the Archery Greek Olympic games has found its way to the twentieth-century in the form of Columbia's archery team. The historical necessity became an official sport in 1879 with the founding of the National Archery Association. The CU team followed this strong tradition with an excellent season, remaining undefeated and emerging as the New York State Champions.

"Everyone on the team gets along," said Sally Braver (BC '91). "The senior team members are very helpful and show everyone how to do things. The assistant coach and the coach are also experts. It is a rare opportunity in New York. This is my second season and I like it a lot."

WOMEN'S VARSITY CREW

Crew is not just a sport; it is an addiction. Those who have rowed at CU have all shared a unique experience. They have achieved a special satisfaction of participating in one of the most demanding sports in a very challenging environment – New York City. While other schools row in a tranquil and relaxing environment, such as Carnegie Lake, or on rivers that are picturesque and have a tradition of crew behind them, such as the Charles of the Schuylkill, the Lions push off the docks onto the waters of the Harlem River.

The sometimes hostile Harlem is exceptional as it challenges crews daily to compete and survive practices with threats such as harsh currents, occasional stone-throwing youths on the shores and the ultimate arch-enemy – The Circle Line Cruise Ship. All of these obstacles make crew a tough sport to handle at Columbia, but they also give the athletes an indescribable sense of satisfaction. Members of the team are forced to push themselves both mentally and physically as never before. Early morning practice is often necessary in order to seek calm water needed for a successful workout; many rowers can claim to accomplish more before 9:00 am than the rest of us do all day.

The mainstream population of CU does not always get a chance to become familiar with these unordinary athletes. The Columbia boathouse is about a hundred blocks uptown, and members of the team spend an average of three to four hours each day training (that's year-round). Crew athletes must possess unlimited dedication to stay with the sport.

Crew, a sport steeped deeply in the Ivy League tradition, has succeeded in thriving in the unlikely urban surroundings of Columbia University.

WOMEN'S VARSITY FENCING

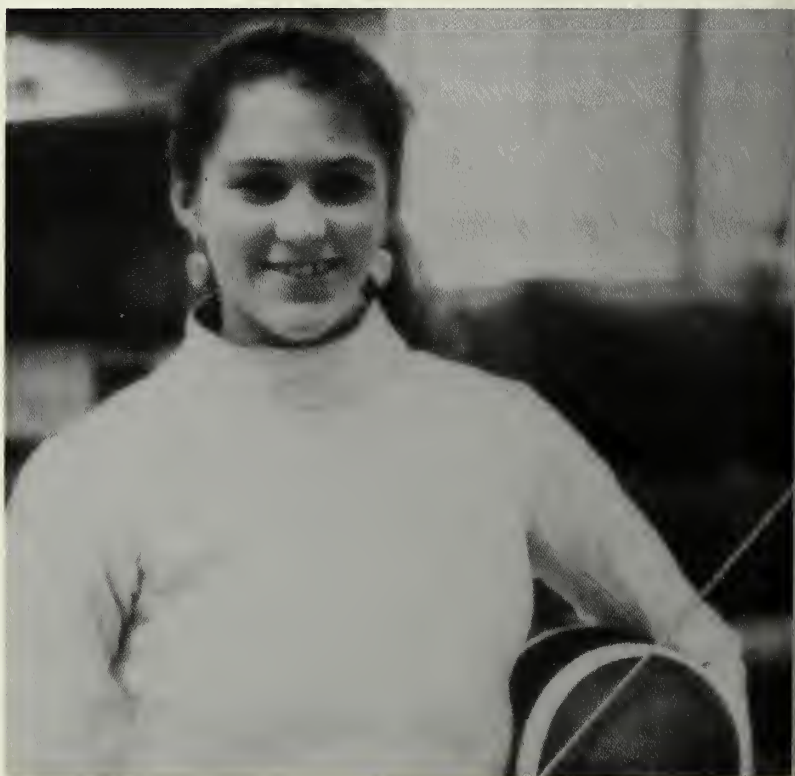

This year's team was favored to win the regional championships for the fifth year in a row. The fencing team was undefeated in the 1988-89 season and won the Ivy League Championship. Unlike other varsity teams, fencing allows unexperienced fencers to join the squad.

Coach George Kolomvatovich explained that it is possible for someone to work hard for three or four years and become a good, competitive fencer.

But one should not forget that the fencing program is extremely strong with many talented fencer; sometimes that JV team competes against varsity-level teams and wins.

WOMEN'S VARSITY FRISBEE

WOMEN'S VARSITY SWIMMING

While first-year students comprise an overwhelming majority of the 1989-90 Lions Swim team (13 to be exact), they certainly don't lack talent. Both team coaches and squad members were optimistic about the year saying that the rookies will add a good amount of speed to the team. Senior captian Laura Callif (CC '90), part of last year's receord-holding 800 freestyle relay team, returns to provide leadership and support for the new-comers. However, the first-year students are not without experience.

Said Stacy Marple (BC '93), "I've been diving competitively for three years...I love diving. Gordon is a really good coach. The team is neat, but it's a lot of work — five hours a day. It's worth it, though. It's a good way to get to knwo peole and escape."

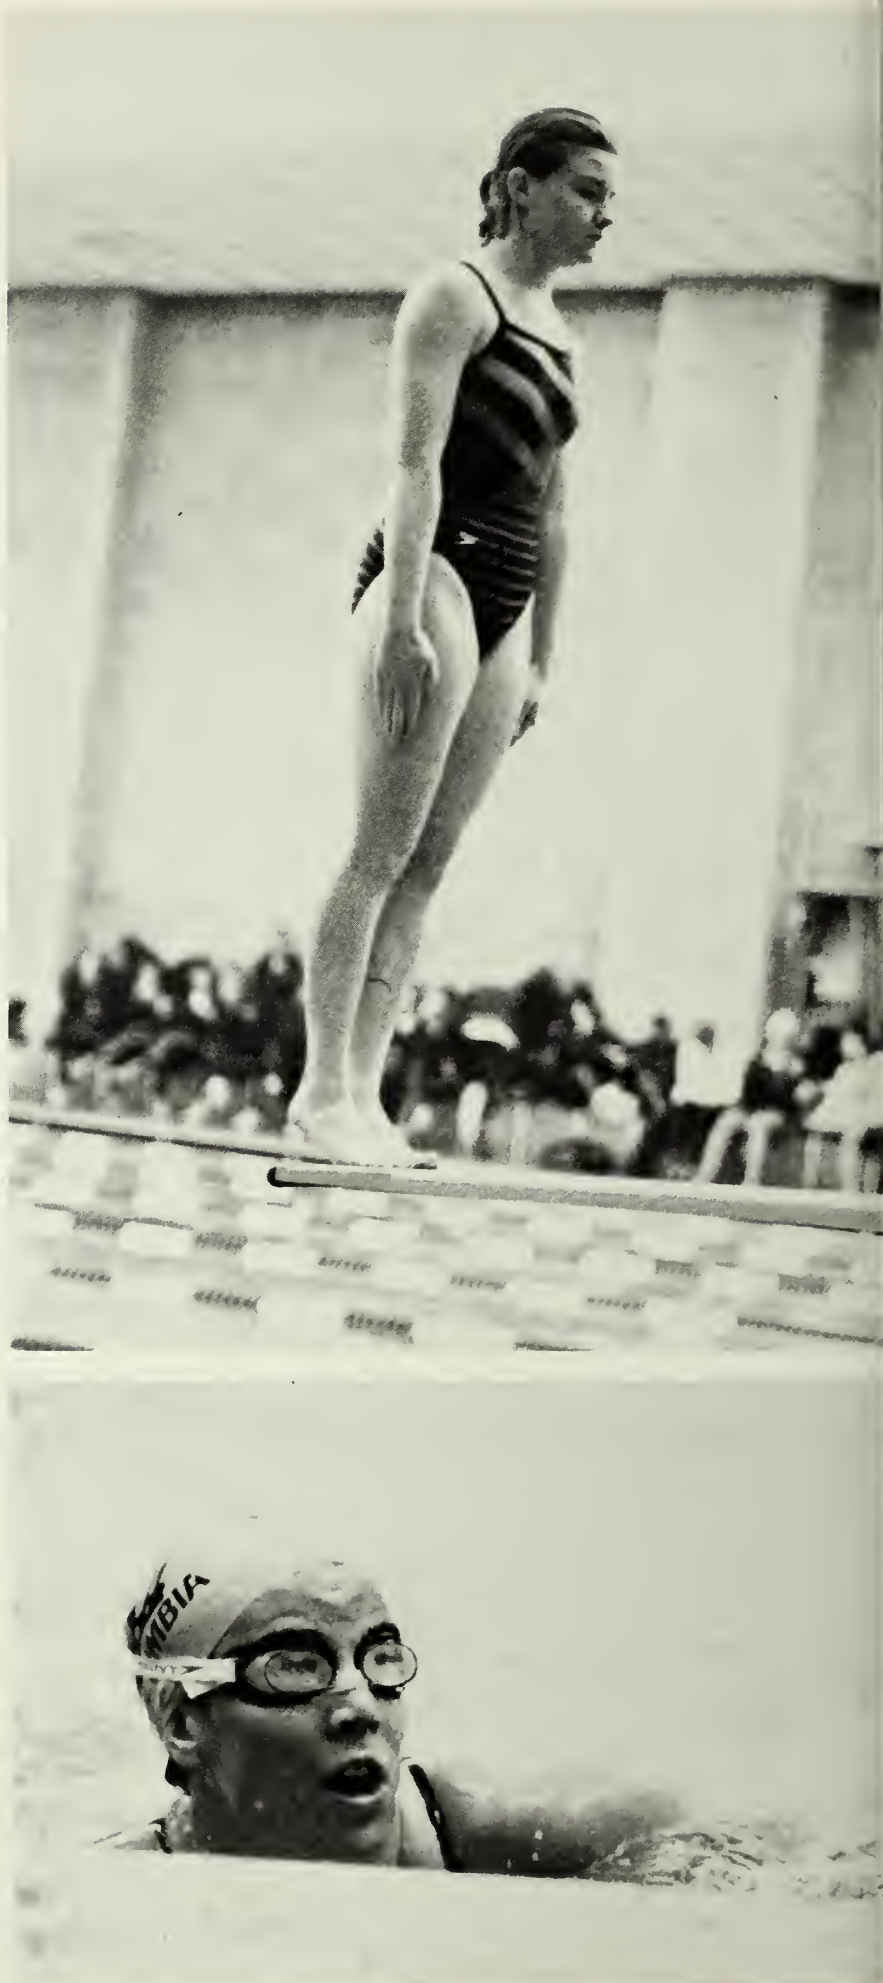

Johanna Ingells (BC '93) said, "I'm having a lot of fun doing it [swimming]. Everyone is very supportive and I hope to be part of the team next year."

WOMEN'S VARISTY SOCCER

The relatively young Lions women's soccer team finally has a few members who have played on the squad for all four years. Aggressive defender Sarah Gump (BC '90) has provided the team with leadership this year, directing the newcomers and strengthening the team's defense. Goalie Susan Kerr (BC '91) led the league with 73 saves. Despite a few injuries this year, the Lions gained fresh, young talent and have become increasingly competitive in the Ivy League.

"I really love it," said new-comer Jennifer Salzman (BC '93). "It's a big commitment and we work really hard. We're a young team with a lot of potential. I am looking forward to next year."

Tracy Cooper (BC '92) shared Salzman's sentiments. "We are a new team. Our season has improved over last year's. Thank God. We do a lot together [outside practice]. It is like a group given to you when you come to school. It's nice."

WOMEN'S VARSITY TRACK & FIELD CROSS COUNTRY

Columbia's women's cross-country team has the distinct privilege of being seven miles, from one of the toughest cross-country routes in the US — Van Courtlandt Park. In their fourth meet of the season at the Metropolitan Championships at the Park, Columbian Devon Martin (CC '90) broke the champion's previous record this was undoubtedly one of the season's highlights. The track and field team broke 11 records last year. Like their cross-country team, they are fortunate to practice at one of the premier track and field facilities on the east coast — Baker Field.

VARSITY WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL

This year's predominantly young Lions volleyball team have the experience of two returning seniors and three returning juniors. Cathy Chin-Chance (BC '91), who earned an honorable mention for the All-Ivy Team, played a key role on the Lions' defense this year. She said, "We fulfilled two goals this year...we won the Seven Sister's Tournament and we beat Harvard 3-0. However," she conceded, "we didn't do too well at the Ivy Tournament." Other returning Barnard students are aggressive senior Courtney Timberlake (BC '90) and all-Ivy winner Jessica Stuart (BC '91).

While the veterans assure the team experience for this year, the influx of young player's bodes well for the future; the combination of the two led to the lions' success. Third-year coach Peggy Schultz has been recruiting top volleyball players and the volleyball program reflects her devotion and excellence.

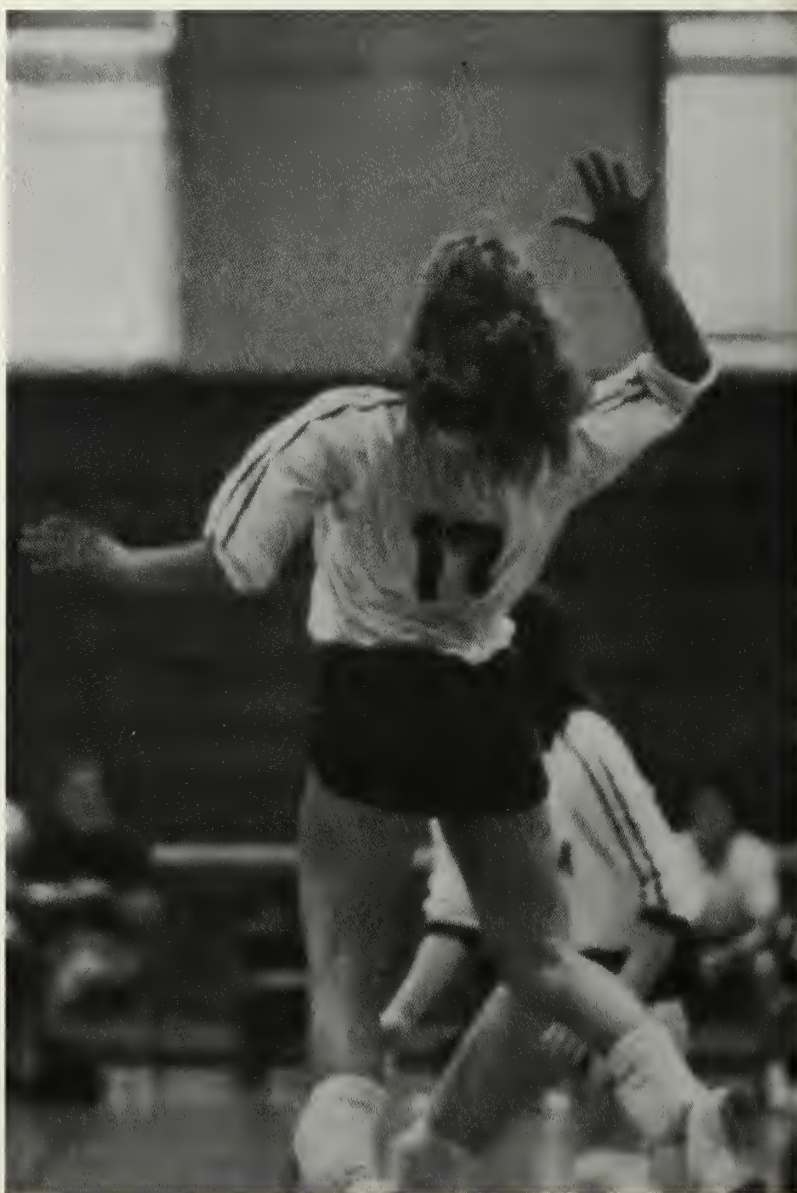

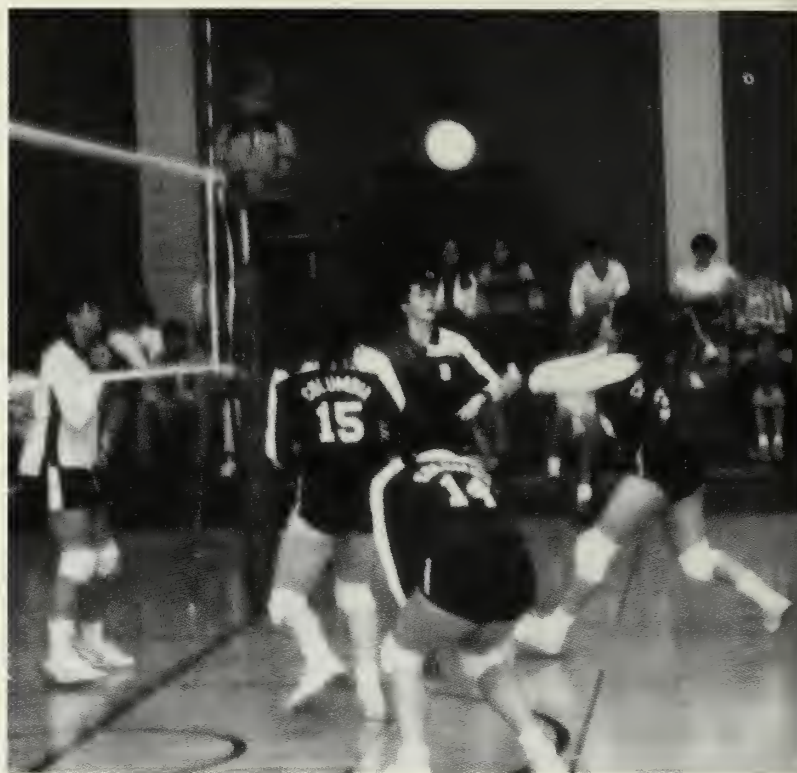

The team enjoys their sporting. Said Chin-Chance, "Playing a sport in college is good...it helps you get your aggression out."

WOMEN'S VARSITY BASKETBALL

The 1989-90 women's basketball team, composed not only of many veteran players from years past but also of fresh blood, fared quite well this season. The Lions were led by point guard and team captain Charlene "Shoe" Schuessler (BC '90), who is not only an excellent shooter and passer, but was voted Most Valuable Player for the 1988-89 season; she also received an honorable mention for the All-Ivy League Team. Barnard's second senior on the team, Tiffany Rodenfels, is no less impressive in her guard position. Often seen on the ground diving for the ball, Rodenfels is a vigorous and enthusiastic player. Carrie Kayser (BC '92), the 6'4" forward from the west coast threatens the Lions' opponents with her blocking and rebounding capabilities. The other team players, Columbia and SEAS students, possess great talent and spirit but you can read about in the Columbia yearbook.

At the season's start, Schuessler said: "I think this season will be our best in Division I so far. We have five seniors on the team this year. We have two new coaches this year and many [other] things have also changed for the better. Everyone is looking forward to starting the regular season of play."

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Psycho Squirrel

Students from hell.

Barnard in the fall.

Oh, I'm going to kill them for putting this picture in twice.

MMMMMMM, smell that fresh air.

I wouldn't stand there if I were you.

Pass/D/Fail deadline was when?

Want a ticket, little girl?

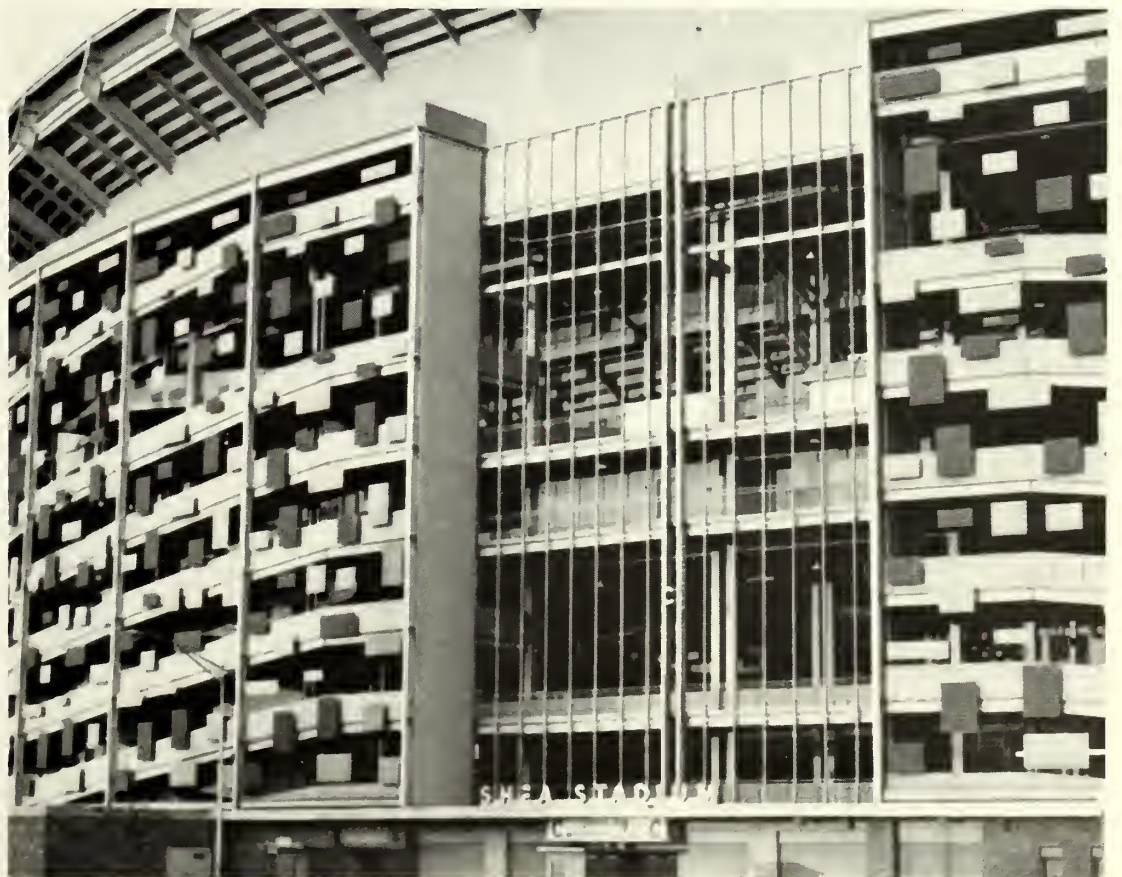

ROAD TRIP!

Sorry, no candy in this hand.

...And Jane Addams should have lived in Levittown because I love both topics so much.

I was gentrified!

Now then, shall we start again?

I'm back in another picture.

There's the Eyewitness News Van Again.

Just follow your nose...

ZZZZZZ

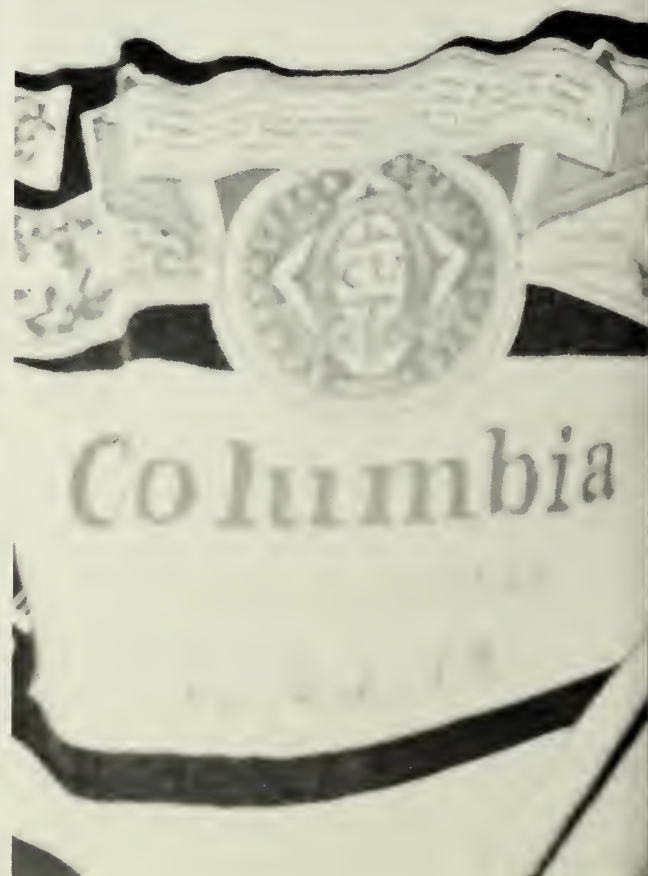

Remember me?

I wonder what ARA is serving today.

I'm outta here!

"Hi, how are you?"

"Good, I haven't seen you in ages. How've you been?"

"The same, you know, busy."

"Yeah, I know what you mean. Hey, we should have lunch sometime."

"We should, but not this week — my thesis is due in two days and I haven't done any research yet."

"This week is pretty bad for me, too. Why don't you call me when things ease up and then we'll get together. Lunch, dinner, whatever."

"Great, talk to you soon."

"Bye."

How many times have you engaged in this conversation, sincerely meant that you wanted to meet for lunch, but in the end never did? After graduation we are less likely to run into one another on the street and thus have the opportunity to exchange addresses and phone numbers. The following directory is a listing of Barnard seniors and their addresses where they may be reached after graduation (or where somebody will be able to give you that information). Hopefully, these numbers will make getting together "to do lunch" a little easier.

To Eileen: "Seagulls, as you know, never falter, never stall. To stall in the air is for them disgrace and it is dishonor. But Jonathan Livingston Seagull, unashamed, stretching his wings again in that trembling hard curve-sliding, slowing, and stalling once more - was no ordinary bird...(his mother asked)"Why is it so hard to be like the rest of the flock, Jon?...""I just want to know what I can do in the air and what I can't, that's all. I just want to know"(he answered)."Look with your understanding, find out what you already know, and you'll see the way to fly."..."To begin with,...you've got to understand that a seagull is an unlimited idea of freedom, an image of the Great Gull, and your whole body, from wingtip to wingtip, is nothing more than your thought itself...No limits." His race to learn had begun."

We are so very proud of who you are and what you are yet to become.

With all our love and support and devotion, Mom, Dad, and David

Amy,

You've heard what Milton had to say,
Fame and its attendant blaze
Compensates for scorned
Delights and laborious days,
Tending the slighted shepherd's

See ya, see ya. Hope you had a good, good time. Hope we get to see you again. Good luck class of 1990. It's Miller time.

Dear Lisa Ann Stanger,

Congratulations on your crowning achievement.

Love you,
Mom, Dad,

A Special Thank You To...

the Barnard Bulletin for letting us raid their photo file and take 3 pictures
SGA who got us into this mess and still owes me $86
McRoom for not having windows out of which to jump our parents for telling us this would look good on our resumes all the curious seniors who filled our PhoneMail
Thorton Studios for always sending back all the film Jostens Printing Company for for what?
the crashing McIntoshes
my parents for buying an ad
our parents for saying, "I told you so"
Timex for somehow getting us out of bed after layout
McIntosh night staff for asking, "How late you gonna be in here? Sign this paper."
the annoying people who banged on the glass door
the NEC SilentWriter™ for jamming our paper the Jean Palmer Room (our supply room)
our spacious, immaculate office out of which we worked all year
SGA, for the key to the resume room (come on, you do it too)
the eagle and the trash can
DAAWN for being photogenic
Jostens for meeting our every office supply need immediately
Kermit for leaving us inspiring messages
Nantucket™ cookies
Dean Schmitter for listening return-receipt mail
LIRR for getting us the hell out of Hofstra
McIntosh neon for guiding us through the night
Ms. Boudelis
the photo editors for labelling all the pictures everyone who ever called us in this hellhole
Barnard for being oblivious to athletics so no one would notice we are missing a sports section our professors for passing us
my thesis
Aimee for giving us her mail box combination
Marilyn Crosby for returning our phone calls and being receptive to our needs our wonderful winter break
Murray Mohl Associates for paperclips
Anne for witing crew copy all our friends who put up with us (we're not listing names for fear of forgetting someone)

Our credos:

"Call me lazy but..."
"I am a bitter woman..."
"Publications, give us sh-t, we'll do it."
"Hi, Anna. This is Julie. I thought you might like this message."
"Hi, Julie. This is Anna. I thought we could....I mean I was going to...I think I'm babbling."
"But is it worse than Bulletin?"
"Ah, but is it worse than the Facebook?"
"Oh, I forgot to bring music...again."
"Don't kill me, just break my hands."
"Mount me, baby."
"NO!!! DON'T TURN IT OFF!"
"Leave it in the Mortarboard box. We'll pick it up..."
"I checked the box and there's nothing there yet."
"Who let these people into Barnard?"
"What can we do now?" "Our resumes."

A Salute To:
